Anaconda survey begins today

ANACONDA — The Anaconda-Deer Lodge County Local Government Study Commission is surveying about 500 area residents to find out what people think about local government.

The study commission developed questions for the survey with the help of the Montana State University Local Government Center. From today to Oct. 28, local volunteers will make random calls lasting about eight minutes for the survey.

After the survey results are in, the commission will hold a public meeting to publicize the findings.
