

The Center for Faculty Excellence is pleased to announce the following workshops for February 2013

Questions about the workshops listed below should be addressed to Anne Angermeyr, Office of the Provost, annea@montana.edu or 994.7136.

- Advising Excellence: Best Practices from the 2013 Advising Award Winners

Monday, Feb. 4, 11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m., SUB 233

Join us in a lively session with the recent recipients of MSU's first Academic Advising Awards: Doug Downs, English; Steve Holmgren, Chemistry & Biochemistry; Rob Maher, Electrical & Computer Engineering; and Sheila Nielsen-Preiss, Health Professions Advising. Our panelists will discuss ways to support students with effective advising that enhances both academic experiences and professional preparation.

Lunch provided. This session will be recorded and posted at the Faculty Excellence Events webpage.

Registration is required by 5:00 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 30. Click here to register.

- Working with Rural and Tribal Citizen Leaders to Improve Your Research and Service

Thursday, Feb. 14, 11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m., SUB 235

This workshop will explore new methods for collaboratively working with rural and tribal leaders on community development, research, and service projects. The discussion will include cooperative and asset-based approaches that equitably involve all partners in the process and recognize the unique strengths that each partner brings to a project.

Presenters: Bill Yellowtail, Director of Native American Partnerships at MSU; and Bonnie Sachatello-Sawyer, Executive Director of Hopa Mountain, a Bozeman-based nonprofit organization

Lunch provided. This session will be recorded and posted at the Faculty Excellence Events webpage.

Registration is required by 5:00 p.m., Monday, Feb. 11. Click here to register.

- Looking Inside Online Courses: Math and Spanish

Sponsored by Extended University

Wednesday, Feb. 20, 11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m., EPS 126

Faculty who have not taught online before are curious as to what a fully online course looks like and how it works. In this session, you will have the opportunity to see the tools used by faculty in disciplines that don't at first seem conducive to online delivery. These two faculty members will review what they've learned about online teaching and will demonstrate special features of their courses.

Presenters: Tom McGoff-Hayes, Mathematical Sciences; and Veronica Garcia Moreno, Modern Languages & Literatures

This will be a brown-bag workshop, so feel free to bring your lunch. Beverages will be provided. The session will be recorded and posted at the Faculty Excellence Events webpage and the Extended University Teaching with Technology resource page.

Registration is required by 12:00 noon, Tuesday, Feb. 19. Click here to register.

- Lies My Teacher Told Me About Native Americans and How to Do Better

Wednesday, Feb. 27, 1:00-4:00 p.m., SUB Procrastinator Theater

This Indian Education for All Spring 2013 workshop features a presentation by James W. Loewen, bestselling author of Lies My Teacher Told Me and Lies Across America. Dr. Loewen is a regular contributor to the History Channel's History Magazine and a professor emeritus of sociology at the University of Vermont.

No registration is necessary for this workshop but if you have questions, please contact Jioanna Carjuzaa at carjuzaa@montana.edu or 994.4941.
